

A BETTER WORLD

There is a lot of hatred in this world, there are wars between nations, there is mistreatment towards defenseless beings, there are fights between close people, there is a lot of evil floating in the environment and it will not be the charity of a few that will manage to triumph over this evil.
Only a universal awareness that we have to change, all human beings
in the depths of our thinking, feeling and acting,
only a deep desire to expel from our being that hatred, that anger and that disdain, only that firm and personal decision can lead us to put individually
our grain of sand
to a great work, the great collective work which has to be working together shoulder to shoulder in order to build a better world, a world without hatred or anger in which we are able to make peace spring, let it spring from the bottom of our souls to end up joining up with those powerful jets of peace of other hearts and together,
all humankind,
form an immense sea of feelings of love
that flood the planet and bring forgiveness.
